Son of God, eternal Savior, Source of life and truth and grace.

Word made flesh, whose birth among us hallows all our human race

You our head, who, throned in glory, for your own will ever plead;

Fill us with your love and pity, heal our wrong and help our need.

As you, Lord, have lived for others, so may we for others live.

Freely have your gifts been granted; freely may your servants, give.

Yours the gold and yours the silver, yours the wealth of land and sea;

We but stewards of your bounty held in solemn trust will be.

Our God, our help in ages past,
our hope for years to come,
our shelter from the stormy blast,
and our eternal home:

Under the shadow of your throne
your saints have dwelt secure;
sufficient is your arm alone,
and our defense is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
or earth received her frame,
from everlasting you are God,
to endless years the same.

A thousand ages in your sight
are like an evening gone;
short as the watch that ends the night
before the rising sun.

Come, O Christ, and Reign among us, King of love and prince of peace;

Hush the storm of strife and passion, bid its cruel discords cease,

By your patient years of toiling, by your silent hours of pain

Quench our fevered thirst of pleasure, stem our selfish greed of gain

Son of God, eternal Savior, source of life and truth and grace,

Word made flesh, whose birth among us hallows all our human race;

By your praying, by your willing that your people should be one,

Grant, oh, grant our hope's fruition; here on earth your will be done
